The purpose of the appearance of the Lord Moses

MOSES: There is so much spiritual darkness in the brains of men, so that they do not know for which purpose the Lord appeared and taught the existence of the soul and the immortality of His Psychic Kingdom. The Lord, my dear brethren, was a Soul like your own; in other words, one of your Brothers with awareness of His Mission in your World. He held the highest position in Heaven and he preferred to incarnate and as a plain man to teach you, to inform you and to guide you through the darkness into the bright avenue that leads the souls to the Kingdom of Immortality. In order for Him to achieve His purpose, He had to be condemned as innocent and thus raise the spirits of Justice, Love and Solidarity against those, who, through their dark conscience committed hideous crimes against the majority.

A lot of people suffered a death worse than the Lord's but the Lord - as he said - had the purpose to set the foundations for a true Faith in the One and Unknown to all God and Creator of the Worlds. The foundation, therefore, of the Lord upon the Faith, is an undoubted and a historical fact. Where Christianity sowed, there the Spirit found a fertile ground for cultivation. Unfortunately, when man is elevated spiritually, he easily forgets Him, Who gave him the spirit for Enlightenment and not for material cultivation.

Today, you ought to cultivate your inner man, if you have higher knowledge and you balance this with your psychic strength. Only in this way you will be able to find the purpose, for which the Lord descended from Heaven.

I also wanted once to set the foundations for the same Work but I was not the appropriate one. I did not possess His calmness; I did not have so much Love as He had for man, neither His psychic Charisma. For this I suffered, because I did not bring into completion what I thought I could. I paid for my mission in the Spiritual World by being isolated and only lately I atoned and undertook a bright position, thanks to the Lord and to the Light-giver Star of the Spirit, Archon Pharah. These two pleaded to the First Cause and I was relieved from the annoying bonds of isolation.

I am grateful and full of dedication to the Great Leader. Why you, the little ones, who do not know anything about the endless Knowledge, do not recognise the Benefactor and Savior of your souls? Isn't this a mistake of your bad enlightenment? What hinders you from embracing Him as Guide and believe in him with all your might? If you did this, automatically the faucets of Knowledge would open and New Light, this time Divine, would overtake everyone in the circle of love and understanding.

Many Angels that never incarnated do not dare ask for incarnation, in case they commit the same mistake as I did; because, brethren, I was also once an Angel of Heaven.

For the first time I recount unknown aspects of my entity. Here we are all good and dedicated to our Work and we have the impression that, by coming back, we are able to do the best. Unfortunately, the truth is different. Matter has a thousand forms of attraction and none of us knows which of these forms will subjugate us.

The only thing I gave to man is the Commandments of the Lord; and these, not how the Lord indicated them to me; for this reason they were complemented by His Son, Who was justly called the Son of the First Cause. He is the Only One, Who directly receives Commandments from the All- Merciful and conveys them to His Kingdom. There He distributes them to the specialist Leaders, Sub-Leaders, etc. In rare cases the First Cause acts directly; very rarely. He acts through the Word, Which transforms whatever is difficult and thorny into their exact opposites.

The Angels of the Governing Principle have greater authority when coming from Earth, because they have gone through Temptation into the path of rightness and they have won a special reward from the Lord. There are too many Angels that have not known your Earth; their psychic strength kept them near the First Cause. They do not all have the same strength, however. They lack behind in spiritual enlightenment. For this reason they receive orders and transmit them from one corner of the Heavenly Kingdom to the other.

I will also say something else: The Universe is endless; it is a Chaos, inconceivable in the Infinity. All the stars that are within the Universe are related to each other, so that everything moves in harmony inside the endless Kingdom of Immortality.

There is also another Universe. It is not related to the Universe we are talking about. Its stars are again related and thus the Seven Universes are complemented. Now you realize that the human mind is incapable of conceiving the extent, which is endless.

The Seven Universes are related to each other, as seven different vast Universes. This is a relation of number and not of one Universe affecting the other. These numbers are concentrated in the Axis of the Volition of the Divine and they rotate, so that one Universe takes over the space - let me say – of the other Universe in an unknown time. This is done so that there is Universal harmony and new Creation of Worlds, in the vastness of the inconceivable Knowledge of the Lord.

I name the Seven Universes as: The vastness of the Creation, inside the Unknown Logos. And you - I mean the imbecile ones - rule out the Concept of God? Since the Lord has taught you about the existence of the Invisible World, how blind must man be to not have a wide perception about the existence of the Deity! And when I say Deity I mean Lord Jesus Christ, the Only begotten Son of the First Cause and Great Leader of the Spiritual World.

Natural phenomena

Confucius

CONFUCIUS: You mortals, after long investigation of natural phenomena, have acquired the habit of giving, according to your discernment, explanations about these things that derive from your observation and your imagination. The result is that for phenomena such as thunder, lightning, earthquakes, tempests, bad weather, heat and cold, you have formed mistaken ideas. Why?

Because you are not enlightened by Our Cause. You have for example measured the possible central heat of your Earth and you forecast everything in accordance with the law of probabilities - that your Earth, for instance, will retain its heat for so many centuries to come! How have you reached this conclusion, since no man has ever penetrated into the bowels of the Earth? I mention this, because research from a distance is always fallacious.

You are fully aware, that in an enclosed space, fire without oxygen cannot endure. How, therefore, in the bowels of the Earth, has the life-giving fire of the Earth's bowels, endured for countless centuries? This is the question.

The thunderbolt is a positive force and is attracted by the negative force of the Earth. What happens to the thunderbolt? As an electro-dynamic flash it penetrates into the insulated magazines of the Earth, to be found at an enormous depth, and there protected. When the Leaders of the Spiritual World, unite the positive energy of the thunderbolt with the negative energy of Earth, an explosion is created, together with new fire for the renewal of the heat of the bowels of the Earth. Otherwise fire would have disappeared a long while ago from the bowels of the Earth, where there is no oxygen. Do not have the idea, then, that you have investigated everything.

You have toiled greatly in order to reach a single conclusion. But is this conclusion right? Who will give you the correct answer? Man? He, on investigating, will fall into the same error because his brains are earthly and his mind is limited, while the Heavenly Teachers have limitless knowledge about every subject, unknown to your comprehension.

We have given explanations of many phenomena many years ago, but there are others of which we will give the explanation at a later date. The more simple of them, which are daily visible to your eyes but which remain unobserved at certain points of your solar system, have not yet been explained by anyone. Why?

Because the spirit of man cannot grasp the meaning of values and for this reason is not capable of penetrating the unknown mysteries of life. Learn first to believe and then to investigate if you wish to become effective and invaluable scientists.

The seven days of Creation

Orpheus

ORPHEUS: As you know, my brethren, the Old Testament, in the Chapter on the Creation of the Worlds, relates that in seven days God made all things.

The number seven (7) is the number of Creation and Destruction. That is to say, within continual and successive creations and destructions the World of the Earth appeared within the Infinite, the World which is that of human sojourn.

In spite of the opinion of the dogmatists, man incarnates many times on the Earth, in order to refine his being. He is unaware of this phase of his change, because when he comes again he forgets his former life — except on most rare occasions — and in any case he does not recall anything of his life in Heaven. Man is born as an entirely new being, with the same spirit and the same soul. These, on his return, alter their powers in accordance with the being's Heavenly progress. In his subconscious, all this is known and is held in total secrecy from the spirit, for otherwise there would be no reason for the being to return, expiating its former sins.

Thus, on the World of the Earth, the number seven (7) remains the magical and mysterious number, which men lacking this capacity find difficulty in interpreting.

According to the Primal Cause, one day of Creation endures for a vast length of time, which cannot be indicated by means of numbers. God worked at creating everything for six (6) days and on the seventh (7th) He rested. Each of the six (6) working days of Creation endures for the same length of time as the others. The seventh (7th) begins with the appearance of man on the Earth and will continue until the end of the World. This seventh (7th) day endures for the same length of time as each of the other six (6) days. Thus you can imagine what infinite ages are crowded into the seven (7) days of Creation which are completed with the end of the World.

This Chapter is one of the most difficult with respect to the understanding of the temporal duration of divine Creation. God is not man, but the Creator of man. Thus man has within himself the sign of the divinity and the independence of his spiritual mind, which often blinds him so that he is not able to grasp even the existential meanings of God itself. Consequently, when it is hard for him to grasp the meaning of the Supreme Being, let him never attempt by means of mathematical equations to find his own equilibrium; and when he is not able to resolve the immediate problems it is purposeless for him to try to resolve those which are beyond his powers.

NOTE: Each of the seven (7) days of Creation endures for the same length of time as the others. The six (6) working days and the one (1) day of rest constitute the 7 days of Creation. The 7th day is reckoned from the appearance of man on the Earth until the end of the World. If you were to discover the duration of the 7th day, then you would know how long it took for everything to be created. Let scientists specialised in these matters find the answer, and I will give them the lie.

Basic principles of Yoga

Gandhi

GANDHI: Today's lesson, like yesterday's one, is a preliminary lesson. The first thing you have to know are the difficulties encountered when applying the different types of yoga. The main type of yoga in the West is "Kriya Yoga". The other types of yoga are only useful when the trainee has his teacher (guru) with him. If the trainee proceeds on his own then, at some cases, he will not be able to direct the prana where it has to be directed. In these cases, the trainee may either literally go insane or find himself on the wrong path (that of the evil spirit) and perform miracles in a way contrary to that of the good spirit.

If the pupil makes a wrong move or does not meditate correctly on the dynamic word "Mantra", i.e. confirmation, then his guru comes to him, wherever the pupil may be. The teacher connects with his pupils with luminary cords. How many of the infinite number of pupils have reached the level of the yogis? Only a few have done that, if not one or two. This exercise of yoga is very difficult for the westerners.

First, you must know that the human body has seven major plexuses, which I will name, and you also must know how the prana acts upon them. Apart from these plexuses there are other sub-plexuses. We will not deal with these here because I don't want to burden you more.

When the prana enters your body, during the various stages of yoga, then you are rid of all diseases. None of the great yogis ever got sick. They all knew their last moment and announced it to their pupils.

The yogis are not always right in their opinion because they, after all, have human powers. Man, this alien world of the Creation, is the whole Universe in a micro-scale. He carries inside him two currents: that of the Good and that of the Evil. These currents are constantly fighting each other. The spirit plays the role of the referee. The spirit must not favour one or the other side. It must keep the entity balanced because the entity came to this material world with this purpose.

Man, with his limited knowledge, cannot reach the depths of the sacred knowledge. For this reason, the Light-giver of Truth, Archon (Master) Pharaoh, appointed me to show you how to exercise with simple methods in over-seeing, in over-hearing and in travelling to the astral world so that you see the wonders of the Creator and stop doubting His existence. You will conquer the Universe within yourselves when you acquire knowledge of Him.

In short time I will expand on the subjects of imagination, concentration, the sacred words (dangerous to the ignorant), and the transmission of thought from a different point of view.

Light, sound and colour are all vibrations. If I convert these vibration into matter, you have beautiful scenery in front of you. This is how you get inspired. The scenery is very attractive to you because it contains sweet light, soft colours and musical sound. Therefore, this scenery, which is made up of matter, I can convert it into energy, light, sound and colour. This proves that everything in this world is vibration. Matter does not exist; it is created. And everything that is created, the Creator can convert it back into energy.

Do not think that there is always one solution to each problem. Why do some of the Mathematicians assert that? How did they come to that conclusion? There is always more than one way for someone to reach his goal. Therefore, there is not only the way that the yogis follow. There are other ways, as well. We are going to follow the shortest and the easiest because you do not have so much time to train as do the hard-disciplined gurus of the Indies.

Divine grace sends me to enlighten your spirit and show you the way, or rather, the path. Do not think that it is easy for someone to follow the divine thread of his link to the sounding Word.

The laws of the Golden State

Plutarch

PLUTARCH: The laws must first of all be annulled from all countries of your Earth and new laws must appear. The Golden State will have in its disposal the best laws, which Humanity has not seen yet.

The law is not applied based on the will of one or the other lawmaker, if “lawmakers” exist today. The law is inspired by the appropriate people and the appropriate people ought to be white in their conscience and not black, like the crows.

The law is not anyone’s delicatessen. It is Divine Imposition. You ought to come into contact with the Divine, in order to receive from it the law, otherwise you damage Humanity and drag it to the verge of the abyss. Because a bad law creates bad citizens. And the bad citizens influence the good citizens and create havoc and impasse.

Referring to the general concept of sin, I say that this is the law-violation of man’s moral stance. Sin is the moral or physical pain that one brother exerts on another. I will not expand on what crime is, only in your modern era, because in the Golden State this will be considered unworthy of the being that is called “man”.

Misdemeanours and misdeeds have their roots in your modern civilisation. In the new civilisation of the Golden State, these will have a different meaning. Do not forget that moderation is the steady canon of perception and assimilation of the Divine Word. This moderation will be the shield and the bow of our citizens.

Plutarch

Socrates criticises avarice

Euclid

EUCLID: All attendees and bystanders had voiced their opinions on an interesting topic and last spoke Plato, who explained the darkest points of their opinions with great clarity, providing their solutions as per the system used by his endearing Teacher. All admitted that Plato was quite inspired and owned the secret part of the Word deservedly.

Socrates did not speak. He would solely observe his pupil pleased, because he had managed to rivet them through his methods, so that they would admit that Plato indeed reflected Socrates.

Among the bystanders was Mexipos, who was known for his wealth as much as his avarice. When the conversations ceased, Mexipos stood up, moved towards Socrates, who had been silent till then, reached a golden coin from a distant foreign land to him and asked:

MEXIPOS: O Socrates, which, I wonder, is the value of this currency?

Socrates, smiling, about the inappropriate timing of the question, responded to him as follows:

SOCRATES: O Mexipos, you ask me, who is ignorant, the value of your currency? Do you not know that the value of a currency depends upon its holder? When, my dear, the holder of a currency such as this knows how to use it for the general good and interest, then, undoubtedly will its value be greater than the one calculated and estimated. If, however, the holder of the currency intends to save and keep it in reserve, then, for me at least, this currency has no value whatsoever. It is not, that is, the object to which we give meaning but to man who treats and processes it and knows how to manage the currency for good cause.

Something soulless often annihilates the vibrant mind and renders it as parasite to Society.

Euclid
(PAGES FROM THE LIFE OF SOCRATES)

The importance of moderation

Homer

HOMER:

Moderation is the basis of human life.

Moderation is not unjust, does not abuse, and does not hate.

Moderation is the love of balance.

The saying “Moderation in all things” was not a manner of speaking but a true revelation of the Divine light to men of spirituality and reason.

Poetry without measure has no harmony and music deprived of measure sounds wrongly. You ought therefore to possess moderation as a yardstick for everything.

The frenzied imagination has no moderation, only madness.

Insistence on an idea or on a mistaken tradition leads to fanaticism, which compels man to backtrack from the right path and changes him from a calm person to a crazy detractor of the truth and an enemy of love.

Do not ignore moderation. Everything done in moderation is correct; beyond that you create chasms which lead you to the irredeemable abyss.

The value of moderation is a priceless treasure for man.

When you act according to a double standard, it is called “deceit” and is punished by Divinity. You are using the word “standard”, (or measure) but in a different, deceitful sense. That is, you are cheating your brothers through this flexible standard and ignoring your conscience, which carries all the burden of your evil deeds, so as to point out the mistakes to your spirit in the Tribunal.

The burden of the spirit is carried by the soul (the conscience) and is relieved of it in the Heavens, because it shifts the burden onto the shoulders of the spirit which, unable to rid itself of the pressure, suffers unimaginably.

It is your sacred duty to act well and virtuously, but not beyond the bounds of moderation, for men will reward you with ingratitude instead of gratitude, and the torment of your spirit will be doubled. Great kindness exhausts your goodness and strengthens the evil spirit of human rebellion.

You give your enemy a helping hand. To a certain degree you do well. Further than that you encourage his wickedness not only towards yourself, his helper, but towards his brothers as well.

An evil person will say: “I am only able to impose myself on my adversary and make him afraid of me in my own fashion”.

In order that such people, who are capable of harming many of their brothers, do not take advantage of you, do not fail to carry moderation with you wherever you go.

The absolute does not exist on Earth, nor amongst the lower ranks of souls in Heaven. The absolute is utopia, a word which for the naive possesses a deceptive attraction. The absolute, as a quality of the Good and the Virtuous, transmits its energy in small doses to people of moderation.

It is truly lamentable that man does not understand Divine Knowledge, which is transmitted for his benefit. We do our duty; if some of you want to ignore the extent of Divine Goodness, it is their own evil doing.

People who lack moderation are led by evil spirits, and who knows where they might end up, so as to be punished as they deserve.

Intuition, guide of the doctors

Hippocrates

HIPPOCRATES: My brethren, you all faithful to the Spiritual World are brothers and we make no exception but we only see to the cure of the faithful of our Seat. Because from them others find out what is happening with our interventions. If few people still do not see an improvement, this is due to other reasons. They should wait anyway: We will not abandon them.

Those who are away from you and who could have come to these sessions of yours come second in our consideration. I do not explain the reason because you are enlightened enough to understand it.

We will explain many cases, which your doctors were not able to clarify, because they lack the Divine Light. And yet, they have the impression that nobody else is like them. In other words, they continue to advertise themselves with their egoism. And this harms them. It weakens the intuition in them. But without intuition the doctor can do nothing for his science and his education does not strengthen him because it is earthly. It is better for me to avoid repeating myself.

In our Field there are strange phenomena, which you, the plain humans, cannot explain. You will submit these phenomena to us and you will receive the answer. If they need our intervention, we will intervene.
