Malicious people undermine the union of the Churches

Dante

5-2-1964

Malicious people undermine the union of the Churches.

None of them has understood that a general union is a moral step forward. The politicians do not care about religion, because they have different interests. Very few of them are faithful, but they cannot insist on their opinions.

The union of the Christian religions will happen and then it will be cleansed from the drones and the indecent people, who want to be called servants of the Lord. The servants of the Lord are firstly servants of their brethren. But which of them will accept to be called a servant of his brother? Therefore, they are lying when they say that they are at the service of God! Woe to them! They will have no place in Heaven. We enlighten only those, who have a clean heart, so that, through their actions they elevate their soul.

The Clergy, in general, does not fulfil its divine mission, because, if it carried its duty, humanity today would not be at the point of despair and it is totally the Clergy's fault for this. Its power is great and it is heard by the faithful but also by the unfaithful, because the others, the politicians, have no idea what they are doing. They hold high positions but they do not have divine Knowledge. If they had such, they would not remove from the world arena that brave man, called Kennedy.

All in all the politicians of your modern era are unworthy of their duties. They support injustice, they take advantage of the weak, they vilify the prudent and they reap the goods of others. Where is the voice of the Clergy? Why is it not incensed? Because people without conscience have intruded inside it! All these have been noted down by the Spiritual World, so that we will overthrow everything for the creation of a benign World.

When you keep various fruits inside a basket, and most of them are rotten, what will happen to the healthy ones? I want to say that it does not matter which field each man follows. Decay is for all people, when the big part of the Society follows it.

Be ready, then, because you will give the fight first and We will help through other amazing means, so that we keep apace. Time is valuable for you. Do not postpone for tomorrow what you can offer today, because, when the offer is postponed, it does not have time for it to be offered!

Dante

The cause of corruption

Dante

22-7-1964

If we assume that you are researchers of a situation, you would be able, when you search with judgment and righteousness, to reach a conclusion of pure justification of your today's corruption. I want to say, what is the cause and how it can through clash overthrow corruption, transforming it to virtuousness of morals and elevation of the moral state of each entity.

I am the one appropriated by the Lord to cauterize corruption, after I first give an explanation of what corruption is and what its cause is, and finally to give the medicine, in other words the reversal of the spiritual microbe. This is transmitted easier than other microbes of various diseases.

Because of your tardiness, I was not allowed to give texts useful to all, for the revival of the ether of your social life.

Dante

Religion is a disinfectant of the conscience

Dante

17-9-1964

For Conscience to be pure towards the entity and the Maker, she ought to be disinfected. But how?

Conscience is not an object or something else made of matter, so that you can disinfect her. Conscience is part of your soul's state and she is affected only through the divine Word, and so she can assume her pure and unbiased position towards your entity. The divine Word, as a disinfectant medicine, acts directly upon your soul, without the latter having need of such cleansing. But not being able to affect her spirit, because of weakness, she is strengthened by the Word and acts upon the spirit.

Only religion can pronounce the divine Word to the souls of men. Religion itself is the means, of which the priest is the man who transmits the word to whomever needs it. The priests, however, despite their sacred obligation they have forgotten their duties and, benefiting from those in need of the divine Word, depending on their position, they take advantage of all people for the benefit of the Church!

The Church, though, does not need the shameless exploitation of the faithful to preserve its prestige and power. The priests are always making mistakes, whose burdens they will not be able to carry, if they do not decide to find the pure ray of the divine light, so that they receive from it the necessary directions and advice. Otherwise, they do not follow the Lord. Their way is opposite to that of the Lord and only the evil Spirit is suitable to guide them to their lawless profits. The means, therefore, that could disinfect the consciences of men, needs disinfection itself. And then it can turn its eyes to the brethren, who need them. When the painter does not know his art, he sells his paintings without any value. Doesn't he mock the buyer? He, of course, convinces him through the immoral word, that the value of the painting lies with the idea of the depicted meaning, by reflection of the image of the subconscious to the inspiration of the painter and with a thousand other words he manages to convince the buyer about the value of his painting.

When, however, the buyer meets the expert on paintings and the latter overturns the claims of the seller, then the buyer will no longer trust painters, even if he is presented with works of value. And if he does not trust the paintings, whose value he questions, it is expected that, gradually, he will lose his interest in them. This is what the priests are doing. The faithful are gradually losing their faith because of them and there is nobody to guide them to the place where they should be. Whose fault is it?

It is the fault of the exploiter. And who is this? The clergy, which blemishes religion to the disadvantage of the believer. They are condemning, thus, their own selves without realizing it. When they awaken, it will be too late. It is needed for the consciences of the faithful to be disinfected but the medicine is lacking. The latter is adulterated and it is urgent that a new one is constructed, for the salvation of the faithful and of the spiritual doctors, away from any exploitation. The history of the Catholic Church has black pages. How are they to be eradicated? Only through the good deeds, the understanding of the purpose of one and only Christian Authority, on the basis of its teaching, so that there will be a majestic and creating union, worthy of its representative Authority.

Do not let consciences be infected. When this disease advances, therapy is then difficult and it will be the fault of the spiritual doctors.

The pinnacle of the psycho-spiritual energy

Dante

Psycho-spiritual energy, my brethren, is the energy of the Heavenly entities, which, according to the scale they belong to, they act with limitations. The pinnacle of the energy of our psycho-spiritual brothers, who have the authority of a Teacher, is their help towards the mortals. This energy is divine. In other words, those who are members of the Councils of our Kingdom, are in a position to act in accordance with the Head and with their energy united, so that it has direct effects on your earthly World. The entity, which manages to reach the Palace of the Lord, constitutes part of the divinity. Because, it is unthinkable for an entity worthy in the soul and in the spirit not to have the distinction of the pinnacle of the lofty and benign. Those who are with the Lord receive the anointing of the divinity. This is known to some people with the name of "Nirvana". People speak about Nirvana but none of them knows that it is only a few, who have entered into this highest point of divinity or Nirvana. Some entities are classified by people as being in Nirvana but they ignore that only in a dream they can classify their fellowmen in a position, in which only the Lord offers to the worthy brother in Heaven. People have the opinion that Nirvana is the union with the Prime Cause. How do they come to this conclusion, when they have Lord Jesus Christ as the Son of the Prime Cause and not as a Heavenly Body? The meaning of the body here is not the concept of matter but of the psycho-spiritual substance of the entity and its energy.

The Prime Cause remains the same forever in the ages. All entities move, think and act within His breath. This has been wrongly understood by the visionaries of Heaven, through their blurry intuition. Others again visualize what is not always correct, because in their visions intervene images of the spirit of disorder and of the diabolical impulse, without the visionaries realizing this.

Today, from the Palace of the Lord, the ones that constitute the deity have the right by the Prime Cause to clarify to men the dark and incomprehensible parts of the Scriptures. Despite the simplicity of the texts and the candor in the expression of the word, the scribes of the texts have also added their own words, which did not need to be added. Others again, covered the truth with obscure images and interpreters today explain the texts of the Holy Scripture according to their enlightenment, so that, if you receive the interpretation of a passage from 10 interpreters, you will have 10 different explanatory opinions, one vastly different from the other.

The beam of true enlightenment, which does not accommodate a foreign beam of enlightenment upon it, is in a position to lay bare the falsehood, illuminating the right and crossing out the erroneous, because the Lord decided, in this way, for you to learn the truth as it is in Heaven. Despite your disbelief, the truth will prevail. You believe in lies as myths that can be realized. And you doubt the truth, as a word of an abstract force. And yet, the words of the abstract force are the most concrete and, if they have not been verified yet, they will be verified, because each verification has its time and day for you.

I do not unilaterally address one class of people but the whole humanity. The Lord, of course, punishes where punishment is due. His punishment, however, is different than the one you think. The Lord is not a sadist to torture you and bring you back to order. His punishment is for your benefit but it is heavy on the conscience, so that the spirit is pressured. In Heaven you are free. The prudent souls prefer their punishment inside the Kingdom of the Lord rather than their freedom in the barricades of the Evil Spirit. The latter (the cunning or evil spirit) exists, my brethren, because, without this, there would not be reward and punishment, progress and regress, love and malice. The pinnacle of the psycho-spiritual energy is Will of the Lord.

Dante

Inanity is usually measured by wealth

Dante

25-3-1965

The power of matter depends on the compensation of gold. Thus, my brethren, whoever has gold in its storage can overthrow even kings. Therefore, this means that the man of bad faith can, through gold, commit anything for his ambition. He can buy off consciences, deceive, steal for the benefit of the sacredness of his pouch and he always floats as pure in conscience and good at heart!

He mocks everyone and he is convinced that he stands in righteousness. Those who have interests in him fight for him, as long as this material bond of theirs is not relaxed. Regarding spiritual dominance, however, this type of man is inane. His spiritual inferiority is dressed with the golden mantle of a magistrate and it covers the nakedness of his knowledge through the dazzle of the golden dress, which substitutes for the spiritual worth with the most powerful prestige of wealth!

It is very rare to find rich people in your World, who are not inane. This is verified by the details of earthly life. I showed as an example the person, by whose wealth you judge his inanity. Because man comes and goes, the crooks have thought of perpetuating an organization, which will constantly have the appropriate partners.

A corporation may come to friction with the Government and be defeated. Thus, some of them thought with cunning to receive the baptism of clergy and enter into its House, as necessary and holy representatives of the divine Will! These people, therefore, became the organizers of a clique of an eternal corporation, securing for their inheritors.

Never has the Church fallen so low in matter as today's Church, which, as Authority, has nothing in common with the Manger, where the Lord was born. Simplicity is being transformed into an intricate complex of milking huge amounts, so that those surrounding the Holy City are thriving, having secured their future and not caring whether there are other brethren on the same Planet.

I am sorry but the truth must be said because the imagination of the officials of the religion of Christ does not exist any more. It has completely disappeared. Those who remain in the positions of their predecessors are, in a strange way, the noblemen of the accumulation of money and the preservers of the Church's reputation, which reputation they have unconsciously devastated with their daily, continuous effort to cover up so many crimes and transgressions, more than those existing in the whole Earth.

Duplicity is revealed by duplicity itself. If direct measures are not taken to cleanse the devious and inhumane condition of the Church, the Lord, in essence, cannot cooperate with its officials.

They hold the effigies of the Lord to mock the naive. He who has self-respect and truly has faith in the Lord, would renounce these Houses as not being representative of the name of the divinity. If you could read the Book of Heaven, where your predecessors are mentioned, as members of the clerical branch, you would be ashamed of their behavior. The truth is bitter but saving.

Dante

How was the Pope elected

Dante

23-6-1970

I came to complete a few things, which belong to my jurisdiction.

Many Cardinals are mediums and, many years ago, these Cardinals gathered to the Conclave, in order to be enlightened and to elect the appropriate Pontifex. This is how the election took place.

Was the Pontifex appropriate, however? If I say no, then, how were they enlightened and by whom? This is how in this case, as well, the Evil spirit intervenes.

How many popes created humanitarianism? What meaning do they give to the Church, the representatives of the Lord? What education do they teach to the faithful? Fanaticism? Then, they contradict Christianity, because the Lord stands against fanaticism, which mars thinking and satisfies the evil will of the so-called faithful.

Why have I cauterized so much the allegedly values of the Cardinals in my work? There was a reason, of course, which you easily understand.

You know that the average person has faith and believes in his Church. Thus, the Leader of the Church possesses great powers, which, if he sets in motion appropriately, he will put in operation the just, the love and the help towards the fellow man.

What does the Leader of the Church do, however? He harangues in vain and he deals like a common sophist. Under these conditions the Church does not progress but it goes backwards, despite its organization, which resembles the one of industry. These are what I had to say, and I will say many more in the near future, about the Church.

Dante Alighieri

About the Church A'

Dante

7-7-1970

My dear brethren, the Church is the beacon of humanity. Because it guides the crowds, to a specific purpose. But when we say "Church", you ought to know what it means.

The Church has the divine obligation, towards all believers, to enlighten, not with the spirit of Evil, but with the Spirit of God. But what does the Church do? It illuminates stereotypically with the Spirit of God and acts with the Spirit of the Evil!

In such a case, how do you ask for the improvement of the World, when this (the Church) is the first to benefit by the faithful? And instead of giving them a helping hand, it makes sure that it drains them out? And in order for this to not appear as a bad and insidious act, it gives a few bread crumbs to the starving and the thirsty so as to shut their eyes!

The Church is politicized, while it should be the head of the people and not cooperate with the Authority! It is possible that, along with the Authority, it would take effective measures, for the benefit of the people. Unfortunately, this does not happen, but on the contrary, it increases the hatred of many against the Church!

When I say Church, my dear ones, I do not mean the system, but the Clergy, for it is the soul of the Church. But what kind of a soul? A cunning, voracious, greedy, vicious, ruthless soul, that instead of benefiting, it destroys the edifice of this divine gift to man.

I am not saying that there are no priests worthy of their mission. But how many are there? Few ones and they can not speak, because they will be persecuted, as enemies of the Church. To all these the Lord will give a good lesson, so that they may remember it in all their lives and that they may set an example to other priests, in order for the exploitation of the faithful, at the expense of their faith, may cease.

Dante

About the Church B'

Dante Alighieri

12-4-1973

The man who has wisdom and good sense wonders "To what is the Church useful, when its officials milk the believers and occasionally curse upon them as do the villains?"

Everyone knows that the Church is the House of God. And its attendants ought to serve the faithful as brothers and not, like parrots, to jabber the prayers of the Fathers and act on the opposite of what they teach. These are not teachers, but people who were seduced by the whispers of Lucifer, in order to mislead and deceive the faithful, as they have already done and continue doing with their heresies, controversies and greed.

How can a believer trust in such priests who take advantage even of the confessions of the believers?

How can they say that they represent Christ, when they act on what the demons dictate them to do?

Where is the believer supposed to rely on, when their priests destroyed the Church, as a center of enlightenment? When they battle the Spiritual World, since they themselves speak of the immortality of the soul? Why, then, since they do not believe in the Immortal Kingdom, do they forbid the meetings of the Spiritualists?

You, dear listeners of the Spiritual World, do you not suspect that this whole situation, which is mocking and deceiving the faithful, conceals personal and occasionally state interests?

I was the first, my beloved, to give to the clergy of my time the first moral lesson. Unfortunately, all remain the same within the clergy. No Church of Christ in this world was able to stand on its feet, except for very few. For very few are the worthy inspirers of the Divine within the clergy.

The Lord, who today fights for the Good and the Virtuous, will not leave unpunished the abusers of His House, which they have tacitly proclaimed as an industry of deception.

In many Christian nations, the Church has lost its prestige and stature. And in others, where the crowds gather to pray, this is done because of the wickedness that exists in their country, all asking for material goods and forgetting, that through them they cannot win the Heavenly Life, since they destroyed the earthly one!

Dark Justice

Dante Alighieri

31-10-1974

My brethren, bear in mind that  $\frac{3}{4}$  of those bestowing/administering justice are found on a foul path. For this reason, in my work "Inferno" I situated many of the decision makers and above all the priests.

For the sinfulness of the Popes, Francis of Assisi will speak to you another time. I will limit myself only to the social ills/faults of those gentlemen, who are called judges and bestow justice to the righteous and punish the wrongdoer, because he did not have the ingenuity of speech, in order to prove his innocence, either himself or his advocate.

And why did the judge commit injustice?

Because he too had the seed of injustice in him and preferred to hear the tycoon and punish the simple and defenseless citizen!

The tycoon is well-known. He pays a high price for what he wants. Why, then, should the judge not take advantage of him and stand indifferent towards the other?

And in such a case, is one in position to rely on justice, which, after condemning the innocent even to the death, reverts later and is justified, that this was a judicial error?

This fallacy must cease completely from the mouth of the judge. If he is not in a position to judge and is in doubt of the guilt of person A or B, he must acquit him. For it is preferable for a guilty person to be acquitted rather than an innocent person be condemned.

The position of the judge is very delicate, because he will have to answer, if not in his earthly life but in the Heavens. And then, he will be sent once again to Earth and a similar episode will be repeated, with the sole difference that the judge will this time be the simple citizen who will be incriminated while being innocent in order to learn to respect the human life and not easily decide upon condemnation when he does not know deep inside who the guilty is, even if he has proof which was artfully presented to provide his innocence!

Dante Alighieri

Human Inanity

Dante

When, my beloved, through your prayers, you ask of the Divine Authority to enlighten you, I wonder why you ask for enlightenment, when it is this enlightenment that guides you and you refuse to follow the path that it trails! Do you know what that means? When the greedy man asks, for instance, for a fortune or a palace or a woman that suits him, and he then has all that, then he no longer values what he wished for and now has. Do you know what this is called? Human inanity!

Do not follow, in this manner, the enlightenment you receive from Heaven, in order to increase your knowledge, not in vain, but by implementing it in practice. The Spiritual World, as I have determined, generously gives you its Heavenly light. How do you, however, take advantage of it? That is, does it become your experience, or is this light transformed into word, enters your one ear and exits from the other? It is good, of course, to invoke the help of the Divinity and as enlightened to enlighten in practice and not tell the truth through word and negate it through your deeds, as the Pharisees!

Today, however, all have become Pharisees and with a lantern you seek to find out who are the right ones to listen to you and realize the Heavenly light, through your enlightenment, in the source of pure and clean water, so as the thirsty quenches his thirst with the water of truth and not the nectar of falsehood!

If the Spiritual World, by permission of the Lord, could transmit to you luminous images of where entities, which existed on earth as men of grandeur, are located, you would not wish to watch that film, so as to not realize how great the psyche's stress is to the sinful and the non-believer in the divine Teaching of the Lord. If he believed in them, it would easily be possible for him to also believe in our New Scriptures, in order to complete his education, towards the elevation of his soul.

I could, through word, give you an image of the condemnation, out of the conscience of the great Church Leaders, who have had the opinion, that they were earthly gods and exercised to your planet their influence as dictators of the soul!

Unfortunately, the History of Papism traces its origins to robbers and pirates, and the great stigma of Papism is the Holy Inquisition. The most ingenious Cardinals were constantly finding excuses to hide the ugliness of the Church. An opinion of the times that justly prevailed was the following:

"Did you see Rome? You have thus lost faith!"

From such an assemblage, what did you thus expect to grow? A rose? If you believe this, you are being deceived. Did I not take the risk of being obliterated by the Clergy? And how many other values of that time did not find their death, because of the distraught and vicious Clergy, who destroyed the faith of their fellow human beings! Instead of helping those in need of it, the Church refused to save them, exterminating them, so that the guilty were punished by the Divinity and were found outside of Our Kingdom.

Be careful. When you ask for light, take advantage of it, not to the detriment of others, but to the benefit of generality.

Dante

Homer's Work "Man & Peace"

Dante

14-11-1962

In the excellent Work of brother Homer, everything is set in their categories, so that the truth of all things shines, according to the classification he does.

His Work is deep and understandable by all. He addresses all pending issues that concern the knowledge of man upon the unknown aspect of the philosophical Justice.

The Work of Homer is the Gospel of Heaven. Everyone is consulting it and based on this, they discuss and reach conclusions. There is nothing in it that is wrong. Everything is thought through, until the slightest movement of all things. For this reason, it has been blessed by the Lord.

Great was Homer on Earth and great he is in Heaven!
